| 6         | Foreword   | 43         | CHAPTER 3: STABLE FINGER POSTURE AND THE FULL ARM WEIGHT |
| 8         | Acknowledgement  | 43         | Introduction  |
| 9  | GENERAL INTRODUCTION  | 45         | 3.1 The four steps: 2 nd and 3 rd fingers |
| 10        | Introduction   | 52         | 3.2 The 4 th and 5 th fingers             |
| 14        | Structure of lessons   | 55         | 3.3 Polarity of muscle fixation and relaxation                  |
| 17        | Blueprint of movements   | 56         | 3.4 The technique of flexible fixation                          |
| 19        | Introductory instructions  | 58         | 3.5 CANS: 'Complaints of Arm, Neck and/or Shoulder'             |
| 21        | Spontaneity and control of movements   | 60         | 3.6 General body posture at the piano                           |
| 23 | SECTION A THE BUILDING BLOCKS OF PASSAGEWORK: MOTOR ACTIVITY                  | 63  | CHAPTER 4: IMPROVING THE FINGER MOVEMENTS                |
| 24        | Introduction to section A  | 63         | Introduction  |
| 26 | CHAPTER 1: THE BASIC HAND POSTURE   | 65         | 4.1 Preserving the stable point of the finger                   |
| 26        | Introduction   | 66         | 4.2 Only moving the fingers                                     |
| 27        | 1.1 Form a detailed picture of the hand  | 68         | 4.3 Keeping the finger bent                                     |
| 28        | 1.2 The bridge of the hand   | 71         | 4.4 Keeping the vertical line                                   |
| 31        | 1.3 'Building' the hand  | 72  | CHAPTER 5: THE THUMB                                     |
| 32 | CHAPTER 2: THE THREE GOLDEN FINGERS EXERCISES                                 | 72         | Introduction  |
| 32        | Introduction   | 74         | 5.1 The basic posture of the thumb                              |
| 34        | 2.1 Golden Fingers Exercise 1 for strength, neurological refinement and coordination | 77         | 5.2 The supporting function of the thumb                        |
| 36        | 2.2 Golden Fingers Exercise 2 for strength, speed and flexibility                    | 79         | 5.3 The basic posture of the thumb when playing in octaves      |
| 37        | 2.3 Golden Fingers Exercise 3 for small finger movements                             | 81         | 5.4 Striking the key with the thumb                             |
| 38        | 2.4 Motor activity of the fingers: physiology  | 82         | 5.5 The relaxed thumb   |
| 40        | 2.5 Concentration and practice time  | 84  | CHAPTER 6: INTEGRATION                                   |
| 41        | 2.6 The order in which to practise the three exercises                               | 84         | Introduction  |
| 42        | 2.7 Summary: points requiring attention  | 85         | 6.1 Transferring arm weight                                     |
|           |  | 87         | 6.2 Oval wrist movement   |
|           |  | 93         | 6.3 Relaxing the thumb  |
|           |  | 95         | 6.4 Synthesis   |
|           |  | 96         | 6.5 Oval wrist movement versus pronation and supination         |
|           |  | 99         | 6.6 The trunk and the elbow                                     |
|           |  | 100        | 6.7 From efficiency to refinement                               |
|           |  | 101        | 6.8 Variants of the three Golden Fingers exercises              |
|           |  | 102 | CHAPTER 7: POSITIONING OF THE FINGERTIPS ON THE KEYS     |
|           |  | 102        | Introduction  |
|           |  | 103        | 7.1 Positioning on the white and black keys                     |
|           |  | 105        | 7.2 Positioning in various tonalities                           |
|           |  | 107        | 7.3 Motor exercise passing through all tonalities               |

109 SECTION B THE TRANSFORMATION OF PASSAGEWORK: DYNAMIC SHADES

110 CHAPTER 8: THE BASIC SEQUENCE AND TOUCH

- 110 Introduction
- 112 8.1 The movement to the key: the forearm
- 115 8.2 On the key: gradations of arm weight and fingerwork
- 116 8.3 Sensitive use of the arm
- 119 8.4 Kneading fingers
- 120 8.5 Fine arm and finger coordination by careful listening
- 121 8.6 Playing legato
- 122 8.7 The interaction between the arm and fingers
- 124 8.8 Leaving the key
- 125 8.9 Harmonising muscle tension and sound intensity
- 130 8.10 Integration: 'tonisation'
- 131 8.11 Independence of the left and right arms

132 CHAPTER 9: ALTERNATIVE MODES OF ATTACK

- 132 Introduction
- 133 9.1 The five general attack movements
- 135 9.2 Attack and sound: mass, size and speed
- 136 9.3 Leggiero, portato and staccato
- 138 9.4 The circular arm movement

141 SECTION C THE BACKBONE OF PASSAGEWORK: SCALES

142 CHAPTER 10: THE ELEVEN PRINCIPLES OF THE SCALE

- 142 Introduction
- 145 10.1 The ascending scale: two central actions
- 146 10.2 Anticipation by the thumb
- 148 10.3 Rapidly returning to the basic posture

- 151 10.4 The descending scale
- 152 10.5 The turning point of the little finger
- 153 10.6 Fingerings in scales
- 156 10.7 Scales and dynamics
- 157 10.8 Fixating the finger at the beginning of a scale
- 158 10.9 Capricious passagework
- 160 10.10 Efficiency, smoothness, agility and refinement
- 162 10.11 Table of principles and errors

163 SECTION D MASTERY OF PASSAGEWORK

164 CHAPTER 11: ADVANCED PASSAGEWORK

- 164 Introduction
- 165 11.1 Passagework in studies
- 167 11.2 Technique and aesthetics
- 169 11.3 Cultivation of tone quality and expression

171 CHAPTER 12: A FEW WORDS ON RELATIVISM AND A BROADER CONTEXT

- 171 Introduction
- 172 12.1 Independent versus involuntary movements
- 173 12.2 Functional adaptations
- 175 12.3 Motivation and other concluding remarks
